FUND RAISING SUCCESS AT GOLF TOURNAMENT

Representatives of consulting engineering companies, private contractors, and Caltrans got together to network, relax and compete at the California Transportation Foundation's (CTF) 5th annual golf tournament at the Winchester Country Golf Club near Auburn, CA in August. Proceeds from the event helped to fund CTF's Worker Assistance & Memorial Fund that aims to support in times of need the men and women working to preserve California's roadways.

The 131 registrants raised over $17,000 for CTF's Worker Assistance & Memorial Fund. Caltrans Director Will Kempton spoke about the value this event has brought to Caltrans and to the transportation engineering community. Tim Hackworth of the California County Engineers Association stated, "This fund is there to assist and support our workers on the road, to help them when they have problems." All participating agreed that this special event was successfully held for a special need.

This year's major sponsors were the Western States Chapter of the American Concrete Pavement Association and the Golden 1 Credit Union. Supporting sponsors included AGC of California, Fehr & Peers, Telfer Oil Company, CEMEX, R&L Brosamer, Parsons Brinckerhoff, Deloitte Consulting, Professional Engineers in California Government, WILLDAN, HDR Engineering, Reed & Graham Inc., MRD Engineering, Omni-Means, Smith Watts & Company, DOKKEN Engineering, Nevada Cement Company, Carter & Burgess, Twining Labs of Southern California, and Cambria Solutions.

Event chair Tom Salata, WSCACPA executive director, presented an oversized copy of a check representing the proceeds of the day to Heinz Heckerth, CTF Executive Director. Tom gave special recognition to the committee members that helped to plan the day's event, the sponsors, those donating raffle prizes and a special thanks to CC Myers, the Winchester Country Club, and the CTF. He invited everyone to bring a friend to the following year's tournament.

If you are interested in participating next year in this fun and worthwhile event, please contact CTF at ctf@transportationfoundation.org.

"It sounded good!" "Oh yeah, it's way down there".
